

THE OREGON MIST.

Visiting States and County Official Paper.

ST. HELENS, SEPTEMBER 11, 1891.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

School books at Ross' drug store.

Treasure notices on cloth for sale at this office.

Mr. G. W. Dow, of Vernonia, has been in town Monday on legal business.

Goods exchanged for produce at Bacon's store.

Mrs. W. J. Muckle, of Rainier, was visiting relatives in St. Helens on Saturday last.

Bacon sells groceries cheap, at Gill-ton. Call on him.

W. H. Braden, of the Nehalem Journal, was at the county seat last Tuesday.

It is said that out of the once powerful Modoc tribe of Indians that only eighteen are left.

Hon. G. W. McBride left Monday morning for Salem, having been called home on business.

Ross has a new stock of flavoring extracts. You can get any flavor you want.

The remains of H. T. Biagham, the Portland lawyer who was drowned some time ago at North Beach, was buried in Portland Monday.

Rev. P. B. Williams, of Portland, will preach at Rainier, on Friday evening, September 25th, and at Warren station on the following Sunday at 11 a. m.

Mrs. J. C. Lamkin, son and daughter, of Hillsboro, were the guests of Mrs. F. A. Moore and Mrs. J. R. Beagle the latter part of last week.

Visitors to the exposition will find the St. Charles Hotel Restaurant first-class in every respect. Meals 25 cents. St. Charles Hotel building, Front and Morrison streets, Portland.

The Pacific Farmer, published at Portland by O. P. Mason, has been sold to Frank Lee, of Centerville, Wash., who will conduct the paper in the future.

County Assessor Charles Doan left last Monday night for his old home in Conestoga, Penn., where he expects to spend about two months visiting old friends and relatives.

We learn, on good authority, that Mr. Glendye, who was at the editorial helm of this paper on its first appearance, is at present holding a position in the custom house in San Francisco.

Mrs. Frances Fuller Victor has been quite sick for two or three weeks at the residence of W. H. Dolman in St. Helens. She is somewhat improved at present.

The Portland Industrial Exposition promises to be far more attractive this year than ever before. The arrangement of the display is altogether different from former years, and especially the machinery hall and horticultural departments are magnificent.

Mrs. Isabel Palmer and two children, of Washington, D. C., are the guests of her aunt, Mrs. N. E. Dolman, of this place. They expect to spend several weeks visiting different parts of Oregon and Washington before their return to their home in the nation's capital.

A large number of barrels came down from Portland on the Northwest Tuesday for Wharton and Wallace the sturgeon packers at Kalama. They run quite an extensive business in that line. The barrels were put off at this place for coopers after which they will be reshipped to Kalama for use.

We have been informed by a party who claimed to know that Major E. G. Adams, well known to Columbia county people, and at one time editor and proprietor of the Columbian, is in Vancouver, B. C. Our informant says that since the major left St. Helens he has fallen heir to an immense fortune and is now living with his family in Vancouver, B. C.

Many years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patents, at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column, will be of interest to inventors patentees, manufacturers, and all who have to do with patents.

The Dallas seems to be doomed to destruction by fire. Since the large fire over a week ago that destroyed seventeen blocks of the business part of the city there has been three smaller blazes, each one seemingly coming from an incendiary origin. Monday night two more fires were discovered and extinguished, and later on in the night another started. The mayor felt called upon to detail about thirty special police to patrol the streets all night, but in spite of the vigilant watch of these officers another house was found to be ablaze. The Dallas seems doomed to destruction in spite of all efforts to the contrary.

Mr. Tucker, of Nehalem, met with a very unfortunate accident while on his way across the mountain to St. Helens last Sunday. When about to the eight-mile spring coming down the mountain on this side, the horses became frightened and ran away down the grade throwing Mr. Tucker out first, leaving his little girl who was with him still in the wagon. The horses ran for some distance and finally struck an obstruction, thereby causing the wagon to overturn and the wagon bed with the little girl still in it was thrown several feet and landed on its edge and its occupant landed a few feet farther away. The girl seemed dazed for a few minutes but soon came to consciousness and on examination it was found that her bruises, while they looked bad, were not of a serious nature. Mr. Tucker, when found, seemed to be unconscious from the effects of the fall and his head and face were badly bruised. They came on to St. Helens and had their bruises cared for and are seemingly all right.

Moore and Cole, attorneys at law, have been busy of late, preparing an abstract of the non-resident real estate in Columbia county. There is a large amount of land in this county owned by non-residents, that never has been assessed, consequently has never paid a cent of taxes. The reason for this state of affairs is because it has been impossible for the assessor to obtain a correct description of the land that it could be advertised and sold for the taxes. If this property was advertised for sale to pay the taxes, some one would claim it and pay the tax levied thereon at once. This is the object of the abstract, and we hope in the future to be able to compel the payment of this large amount of non-resident taxes, which would greatly decrease the percentage in this county.

Judge Q. A. Bowly, one of the principal stock holders in the Astoria & South Coast railway, says that the reported sale of that property to the Southern Pacific company for $54,000 is a myth and has no foundation. In fact, he said, negotiations were pending between the stockholders of the Astoria and South Coast railway and the Southern Pacific company for a loan, which was to be secured by the stock of the Astoria and South Coast Company; but even these negotiations fell through. The Astoria stockholders have an indebtedness on the road they have never thought of selling the road at the absurdly low figure of $54,000, as the road already represents an investment of over $200,000.

The first party of the season was given last Saturday evening by Judge and Mrs. D. J. Switzer of this place. There were a large attendance and a splendid time was had by those present. About 10 o'clock refreshments were served, after which the party were favored with vocal and instrumental music by Misses Holman and Butler, and Messrs. Jones, Perry and others. Altogether the party was a really social affair, and the individual enjoyment of each one was that they had enjoyed themselves hugely. Quite a number were present from Columbia City and vicinity.

The Mist has made arrangements with the Weekly Oregonian to furnish that paper from now until December 1, 1891, and the Mist for one year for the small sum of $3.00 in advance. The regular price of the Weekly Oregonian is $2.50 per year and the Mist $1.50 per year making $4.00 for the two. But we will send to any address, for $3.00 cash in advance, the Oregonian for fifteen months and the Mist for one year. This offer will only last until December 1, and is an opportunity never before offered in this state. Address all communications to THE MIST, St. Helens, Oregon.

One of the best locations in the state for a store is in Beaver valley. The people want a store and postoffice very badly, and will offer a good trade to some business man to open a general merchandise store in that valley. They also need a grist mill, which could be supplied with power by the falls of the Beaver, which is sufficient to run all the mills in the state outside of Oregon City. At present the whole trade of about 100 families come to Rainier and Cedar Landing, a distance of several miles over the mountain, which is a great drawback to that thirty valley.

Miss Bertha Ison, daughter of the late Hon. L. B. Ison, of Baker City, Or., was shot and killed by her lover in Chicago last Monday. The fiend, Dr. Charles E. Ballard, who murdered her because she, having good reasons for so doing, had cancelled their engagement, immediately afterwards took his own life. Mrs. Ison, after the death of her husband, had moved East for the purpose of completing her two daughters' education and it was while at school that Miss Ison met Dr. Ballard.

We are asked to state our Houlton correspondent was mistaken in regard to Miss Gilmore quitting the telegraph office. Miss Gilmore quit only because of the sickness of Mrs. Plummer whose husband is the operator, and teacher of Miss Gilmore. As soon as Mrs. Plummer is well enough so that Mr. Plummer can give his attention to the office Miss Gilmore will resume her study of telegraphy again.

We understand that Mr. Kittering is building a new store on the mountain back of Cedar Landing. The building will be 22x34 feet, two stories high, the lower floor to be used as a store and the upper as a residence.

Judge Sawyer of the United States supreme court died in San Francisco Tuesday last. Judge Sawyer's death following so closely that of Judge Hoffman it leaves the northern district of California without a Federal Judge.

Lost—A couple of black and tan hounds, male and female, in the vicinity of Bunker Hill. Finder will kindly return same, (or say where they can be had), to John Mackenzie, Scappoose, Or.

Rev. Marchion, of Montesano, Wash., has been assigned to the Veronia pastorate of the Evangelical church, and has gone hence to enter upon the important duties laid out for him.

The city marshal arrested a man by the name of Healy Saturday morning for drunkenness. By Sunday morning the man was partially sober and was released and left town at once.

The steamer Joseph Kellogg is at present carrying passengers free, consequently she has a large list daily. It is just as cheap to travel on the Kellogg as it is to stay at home.

Joseph Romblasky, who was brought home about ten days ago, died at Bunker Hill Tuesday evening. He leaves a wife and several children.

J. H. Swager, a former resident of Columbia county, was in St. Helens Tuesday. Mr. Swager expects soon to go into business at Woodburn, Oregon.

Dan Richardson, Jimmy Cox and E. T. Gore left Tuesday for Mount St. Helens on a hunting expedition to be gone several days.

Highest price paid for butter, eggs, etc., at Bacon's farmers' alliance store.

The Mist and the Weekly Oregonian one year, in advance, $3.

Buy your school books at the drug store. Rulers and blotters free.

Justice Doan, of Rainier, called at this office Tuesday.

Mrs. Johnson, of Kelso, was in St. Helens Monday evening.

Judge Switzer and Mr. Charles Muckle have been on the sick list for the past week.

A. S. Dresser, of the law firm of McBride & Dresser of Oregon City, was in town yesterday.

Superintendent Watts, W. W. West and F. M. Tompkins, of Scappoose, were in town Wednesday.

Rev. Daniel Staver, general missionary for the Congregational churches of Oregon, will preach at Rainier for W. C. Wise next Sunday evening, September 13.

County court met Wednesday, and will continue two or three days yet, consequently we are unable to publish the proceedings this week. They will appear in our next issue in detail.

The insurgent Chilian war vessel Itata, which the United States sent the Charleston all the way from San Francisco to Chilli to capture at a cost of thousands of dollars, is now to be returned to the victorious insurgents with Uncle Sam's compliments.

The Mist is very much in need of a good live correspondent at each post-office in the county where we are not at present represented. Send in the news and avoid personalities. If you are afraid your grammar will be criticised we can assure you that it will not. All we want is the outline of what you want to say and we will do the rest for you.

SUICIDE BY AMMONIA.

The Terrible Agony Does Not Prevent Its Use.

No poison brings death with more maddening agony than ammonia, but that fact does not seem to discourage the suicide. The man Harowitz, who deliberately swallowed a fatal dose of the drug in New York recently, is only one of the many who have gone the ammonia route to death in spite of the excruciating pain. Dr. Blyth has recorded thirty cases of ammonia poisoning in the small London district of which he is health officer; Professor Mitchell mentions twenty-two cases, and four have occurred during the short time Dr. Jenkins has been connected with the coroner's office in New York.

Cases of slow poisoning from ammonia are of constant occurrence among men who work in its manufacture, or even in decomposing substances which give it off in considerable quantities. Ammonia, slowly and from day to day taken into the system, causes the complexion to lose its freshness, and the skin of men who get heavily impregnated with it has a disagreeable blotched and discolored appearance.

Taken into the stomach from day to day in even the small quantities used to adulterate food, such as baking powder, it not only injures the complexion but attacks the lining of the stomach, and is the source of much general ill health.

The recent rapid increase in the use of ammonia for various purposes, and the consequent increase in its manufacture, have made it one of the most easily obtained poisons and, although everybody is familiar with it in some form, there is a surprising amount of ignorance of its dangerous qualities. Its use as an adulterant in any food preparation is simply a crime, and as a crime should be punished.

APIARY GLEANINGS.

Smoky weather is the order of the day. Forest fires are raging.

L. F. Banzer has shut his mill down for a few weeks.

The infant son of Charles Prichard, escaping from the attention of its mother, crept a few rods from the house where a stump was being fired, resulting in its feet being badly burned. It will probably be a cripple for life.

The forest fires are at present doing considerable damage. Our esteemed neighbor, Ed. Lyons, is the loser of 7000 shingles.

S. D. Girt has improved his cozy farm with a snug little barn. The old gentleman is by no means going to be left in the cold when the weather will permit him to build.

A fishing party last Saturday left for the Clatskanie river with a box of cigars and a keg of beer. They caught one fish two inches long. The query among the boys is, "If a keg of beer and a box of cigars can catch one fish, how much beer and cigars will it take to catch a mess of fish?" T. P. Woods caught the trout. TOM THUMB.

DEER ISLAND.

We approve of your editorial of August 25 on "Our Taxable Property." THE MIST deserves the support of every honest person who is interested in an honest assessment law.

Oran A. Woods is circulating a petition for a saloon at Deer Island. Of course a city requires all manner of business to be prosperous. Mr. Woods sees a father city here and is laying a foundation. We possess all the requirements necessary for a large city, and at some future day Eastern capital will step in and take possession of our resources. We have excellent water, unlimited timber, iron and coal, excellent transportation facilities, splendid manufacturing location, and a good farming country to back it. The only direct and practicable route into the Nehalem and Clatskanie is from Deer Island, and in fact, as far as it is extended, to the west line of section 9, township 5 north, range 3 west, is as good road as any in the county. It has fewer bridges and less hill, lower grades and less swails than any road we have traveled in these western mountains.

Mrs. Edwin Merrill has just received a beautiful cape crocheted by her aunt, Mrs. Jennie C. Collins, of Wheeling, Missouri.

Alonso A. Merrill and family have spent the past week at Hillsboro visiting friends and relatives. They returned home Sunday.

J. W. Shockley and family returned to Kansas the first of this week. We regret to lose such a family from our neighborhood as Mr. Shockley was a useful man in the community. We predict, however, that he will return in a few years a poorer but wiser man.

We are asked if we know how to "stick" type; well, we don't. We know how to stick hogs, but we have not come such a cruel devil as to "stick" type.

Two young boys from Portland, sons of Mr. Bancroft, the Southern Pacific agent at that place, passed here last Monday enroute for Clatskanie City.

Mrs. Burlingame, the pastor's wife, attended church here last Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill has received quite a collection of antiquities lately, from her sisters, Miss Mary Freeman and Mrs. Jennie C. Collins, of Wheeling, Mo., consisting of a bedspread called "The Rusa Company (Ohio) Fancy." The bedspread was spun and dyed by her sister, Mrs. Collins, a bed-quilt that was placed by her stop-mother when she was past 80 years, and it is called "ocean wave," and a dress she made all by hand to wear on her 80th birthday; also some pieces of men's cloth that was home-made over 400 years ago. These are only family antiquities, but we can't help mentioning them as we notice the marked contrast between the past and the present.

Parties have received letters from William Drummond, a former resident of this place. He is at present at Manitoba managing a large farm for an English army officer, Major-General Wilkinson, and will arrive here in due time. It will be remembered that Mr. Drummond left here two years ago for Scotland, but like many more who left, they must again return to Oregon like "little chickens, come home to roost."

The Rev. M. Burlingame deserves much credit for his effort in establishing a church here. He meets with considerable encouragement, and it is to be hoped that he may convert many souls to his church, not his church, but the living church of the Lord Jesus Christ.

SCAPPOOSE NOTES.

H. C. Lamberson is doing more substantial repair work on his house. H. C. is a rustler.

J. Calahan's house is nearing completion.

George Allhouse looms up in fine style as he applies the paint to Watts' windmill.

Joseph Girdner calls at Scappoose quite often. He says everything is dead up his way.

A teacher is still needed in district No. 28.

Watts & Company have purchased a store site in the town of Scappoose.

Mr. H. West lost $250 and George Allhouse $175 by the failure of the Union Fuel Company in Portland last week. The loss fell quite heavily on them as the cordwood business is one of small profit at the best.

The church sociable at Dr. Quivy's last Friday evening was a great success. Over $28 was netted for the church building fund.

Miss Belle Shattuck is confined to her home with a sprained ankle.

W. M. Mitchell, the blacksmith, has moved with his family to Hubbard, where he will locate.

The farmers' alliance now hold regular meetings at Watts' hall. The membership is increasing freely.

A grand literary and musical treat will be inaugurated at Scappoose in the near future and a rousing time will be had.

Mrs. S. F. Shattuck has secured the best well in this vicinity. Mr. Barnett did the work for $1.25 per foot and he struck a vein of cold water right from Mount Hood.

Cordwood men claim that there is no demand at present, but they are losing no time in hauling it out while the weather is good.

S. F. Shattuck finds all the work he can do in his blacksmith shop.

Miss Mary Watts carried off the prize cake at the sociable on 150 votes, with Miss Eva Bonser a close second.

S. G. Haines' horse and cart left him in the road last Tuesday, but Steve always gets home.

Velocipede riding is getting quite the thing with the young people lately.

Rev. W. C. Wise spent a few days here last week.

Rev. J. J. Staud departed for California this week, and rumor has it that when he returns his bride will accompany him.

The residence of J. M. Gore on his homestead was destroyed by fire this week. Loss about $300.

Mr. Condon Ewing and sister, brother and sister of Mrs. J. G. Watts, arrived from the East this week. Mr. Ewing is pleased with our country and will doubtless remain.

F. Kairnel began the erection of a residence on his place this week.

MARSHLAND ITEMS.

Mr. R. C. McIntosh's smiling face was seen in our little village Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conklin, Misses Maude Imbra and Lizzie Hesse and Master Ralph Imbra, are visiting friends and relatives in Marshland this week.

The thistle crop on S. M. Graham's place is ripe, and the down is floating all over Marshland.

The farmers are done harvesting and are now busy burning brush.

Messrs. Joe Sabayaka and Steve Lampha have returned from Bunker Hill, and are now clearing land for A. S. Graham.

Messrs. Charles and Silvio Graham have taken the contract of hauling hay for R. P. and A. S. Graham.

Several of Marshland's young people gathered at S. M. Graham's Sunday evening. Instrumental, vocal and "chewing" music was the enjoyment of the evening.

The debating society was reorganized and officers were elected as follows: H. L. Warren, president; J. Wallace, vice president; Inez Graham, secretary; Georgia Graham, assistant secretary; A. S. Graham, sergeant at arms; Silvio Graham, treasurer. The question to be debated next meeting is, "Resolved, that the works of art is more beautiful than the works of nature." Affirmative—Silvio Graham,

James Wallace, W. L. Graham. Negative—G. D. Sutherland, A. S. Graham, H. L. Warren.

Miss Maude Henderson has returned from the coast having had a very pleasant trip.

Q. D. Sutherland paid Clatskanie a visit Sunday.

Among the visitors at Marshland were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fippen, Ed and Ellen Fippen and Dave McDonald all of Clatskanie. ODD FELLOW.
